BADGER-BUCKEYE SERIES BRINGS GREAT MEMORIES

By PAUL HORNUNG, Dispatch Sports Editor

"Imagine," stormed Harry Stuhldreher, kicking hard at an equipment trunk in Ohio Stadium's southwest tower dressing room.

"We score 34 points and lose a football game!" snapped the late quarterback of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen, at that time Wisconsin football coach.

Ohio State, under rookie coach Paul Brown, from Harry's home town of Massillon, had put 46 on the board.

That scene was one of my first recollections as a Dispatch sports writer, but only one of many arising from football confrontations between Ohio State and Wisconsin.

Certainly the most vivid is one that has to rank with Woody Hayes' favorites, when he reviews his 24 years as Ohio State's lavishly-successful coach. Because it may have had great impact on his qualifying for the latter distinction.

Hayes' second season, 1952, had been only modestly successful, 6-3, but distinguished by its upset of the Badgers. Though a 14-point underdog, Hayes' squad cut down Wisconsin, No. 1 in the nation coming into Columbus, 23-14.

The '53 Buckeyes had again been 6-3, with a 20-0 loss at Michigan in the season finale. They looked even worse than the score suggests.

Hayes recalls sleeping on his screened-in side porch one hot summer night and hearing a guest at a party next door say, "this is the year we're going to get rid of Woody." And that was pretty much the Columbus fan mood going into the '54 season.

The Buckeyes swept through their first four games by convincing margins, but Wisconsin loomed as a potential stumbling block. Only Oklahoma rated higher than the Badgers in the national polls and coach Ivy Williamson had all-American Alan Ameche, the Big Ten's passing champion Jimmy Miller and other stars.

Miller passed for a touchdown before halftime to give Wisconsin a 7-3 lead. He came storming back in the third period to engineer a drive to the Ohio 20 and it looked like the Badgers were about to assert their superiority.

Again, Miller fired a pass, but Hopalong Cassady cut in front of the intended receiver and picked it off at full speed. He never stopped running until he crossed the goal line, 88 yards away.

The Buckeye redhead got several telling blocks early, but before midfield he was on his own. He made one of the all-time great cuts to completely befuddle the last Badger defender.

It's still one of the most sensational game-breakers you'll ever see. The film clip has been repeated scores of times on TV, including in the opening of Hayes' weekly show.

Cassady later revealed he had a little extra incentive. He was feeling bad about being burned by a couple of Miller's previous passes. He got his revenge, plus.

That run did something to both teams. It turned the Buckeyes on and punctured the Badger balloon, with a result that Ohio State won its fifth in a row, 31-14.

As a matter of fact, Cassady tormented Wisconsin so persistently that Guy Sundt, then Badger athletic director, claimed he would personally attend Ohio State graduation in 1956 to make sure Cassady did finally get out of their hair.

Tragically, Sundt died the Monday following Ohio's win at Madison in 1955.

It had been Cassady who sparked the '52 upset with a couple touchdowns, he'd caught a 60-yard pass from Dave Leggett to win the '53 game at Madison, had the big play in '54 and again was the ringleader of a 26-16 success in '55.

Wisconsin took a 14-0 lead in the first quarter in the latter game and during a time out, the mischievous Cassady asked trainer Ernie Biggs, "How's the old man taking it?"

"Not too well," replied Ernie and Cassady — and his buddies — said, "Tell him not to worry. We're gonna win."

Even in the leaner years, Ohio State has managed to do well against Wisconsin in Columbus. In fact, it has won every game played here since 1918, when the Badgers grabbed a 14-13 decision in the finale of a schedule abbreviated to only six games because of World War I.

Last Ohio State loss was in 1959, 12-3, when the Badgers were on their way to the Rose Bowl. The 1974 renewal has suddenly become a little more nervous, although the Columbus "jinx" should continue to run its course.

It probably won't be routine though. Tradition has proven that.

BEFORE THE GAME

By Steve Snapp

Assistant Sports Information Director

Last week's 42-7 victory over Washington State couldn't have come at a better time for the Ohio State football team.

Starting with today's Wisconsin game, the unbeaten Buckeyes face seven straight weeks of Big Ten play and their convincing win at Seattle gives them some all important momentum for the conference race.

The Buckeyes were almost flawless against the Cougars in recording win number four of the current season.

The offense was particularly impressive, scoring the first four times it had the ball for a 28-0 lead midway through the second quarter. After intermission, the first offensive unit made two appearances and then retired or the final score could have been much worse.

Defensively, it was clearly the best performance of the year for George Hill's group. Except for one scoring drive, which came after the game had long since been decided, the Buckeye defense was unpenetrable. When the game was over, Washington State had lost two of seven fumbles to the hard-hitting Ohio defenders and suffered two interceptions.

"It was the best game we have played all year," evaluated head coach Woody Hayes of his 196th career triumph. "We made a lot of mistakes in our first three games, but there wasn't a fumble or an interception Saturday and I liked that.

"We have been looking for that kind of an effort to get us started.

The Buckeyes got it Saturday and 50,000 fans came away from Husky Stadium convinced that Ohio State was deserving of its top spot in the national polls.

But if the Buckeyes are coming off a big win, so is Wisconsin. Off to a 3-1 start and ranked in the top twenty for the first time since 1963, coach John Jardine's team comes into Ohio Stadium today following a 59-20 blitzing of Missouri last week. The Badgers, who also have recorded wins over Purdue and Nebraska, have lost only to Colorado — and that came the week after their upset of Nebraska so a letdown was perhaps inevitable.

Missouri hardly knew what happened. Wisconsin led 35-7 at the half and added another 24 points in the third period before the Tigers tallied two meaningless touchdowns in the fourth stanza.

By that time the Badgers had made their point. The win over Nebraska was not a fluke as some had been bold enough to suggest and Wisconsin had served notice that it intends to make its presence known in this year's Big Ten race.

Quarterback Gregg Bohlig and tailback Billy Marek have been largely responsible for the Badger success.

Bohlig has hit on 40 of 63 passes this season for 587 yards and three touchdowns. Last week he was a perfect eight for eight and 131 yards before going to the sidelines.

Marek, a 5-8, 188-pound junior who gained 1,207 yards in 1973, is the Badgers' leading rusher this year with 249 yards, including 123 against Missouri.

Ken Starch at fullback has 245 yards rushing and gives the Badgers the most versatile attack the Buckeyes have faced this year.

On defense the Badgers are led by linebackers Rick Jakious and Jim Franz. Jakious leads the team in tackles with 39 and Franz is second with 36.

Jakious and company must contend with Buckeye tailback Archie Griffin who is coming off his best performance of the year. The Columbus junior had 196 yards against Washington State and now has 619 for the year. His career total is now 3,063, making him the fourth most prolific rusher in Big Ten history and the 13th rusher in NCAA history to surpass the 3,000 yard mark.

Back of the Week

ARCHIE GRIFFIN — TAILBACK — Named United Press International Back of the Week last week after rushing for 196 yards and one touchdown against Washington State. Had 167 yards at half-time including a 75 yard scoring run that put him above the 100 mark for the 15th consecutive game. Averaged 9.3 yards per carry against the Cougars before leaving the game early in the third period. His career total of 3063 makes him the fourth most productive rusher in Big Ten history.

Buck of the Week

TIM FOX — SAFETY — Made five unassisted tackles, knocked down two passes and picked off an interception in last week's win at Washington State. Also played well on the Buckeye's punt return team. Already has 25 tackles this year with three tackles for losses. Has also been credited with three passes broken up and two touchdown saves. His interception last week was his second this year.

WISCONSIN PLAYERS TO WATCH

GREGG BOHLIG — QUARTERBACK — Starting his second year as a regular for the Badgers. Completed 78 of 172 passes last year as a junior for 1,211 yards and eight touchdowns. Finished second in Big Ten passing with 63 of 138 for 953 yards and was second in the conference in total offense. Has hit 40 of 63 this year for 587 yards and threw 3 scores. Hit 8 of 8 last week against Missouri for 131 yards.

RICK JAKIOUS — LINEBACKER — On his way to leading the Badger defense in tackles for a second successive year. Has 39 tackles so far this season including a team high 20 solos. Finished an outstanding junior campaign in 1973 with 74 tackles and 64 assists for an impressive 138 total participations. Had 80 tackles as a sophomore — eighth best on the team. Badger coaches consider him the best linebacker in the Big Ten.

A Message From The Director – J. EDWARD WEAVER

Page eighteen of the program contains pictures of some of the athletic department staff here at The Ohio State University. Other members of the staff are not shown because of limited space, but all are equally vital to the success of our athletic program. And because each and everyone of those staff members is willing to devote countless hours each week to his work, Ohio State enjoys one of the most successful and most envied programs in the country.

For example, this year more than 51,000 students will participate in some type of athletics here at Ohio State on either the varsity, club or intramural level. There are 29 varsity sports — 18 for men and 11 for women — offered during the academic year and the list of intramural and club activities is well into the thirties in number.

The enormousness and complexity of such a program points up the need for a large and competent staff. Such a staff must bring all the loose ends together and tie them into a knot so the athletic department can function as one cohesive package.

Just as I mentioned earlier that space does not permit us to run all the pictures of our personnel, so lack of space prohibits me from mentioning all the people I would like to mention. I would, however, in the next few paragraphs, like to give credit to some members of our staff and explain their importance to our program.

Hugh Hindman has been the associate director of athletics since 1970. In addition to attending some Big Ten meetings on conference rules and regulations, he coordinates the travel arrangements for our teams, deals extensively in future scheduling for all sports and is in charge of our physical facilities around the campus. Administratively, he is responsible for the operation of the University golf courses.

Jim Jones and Dick Delaney are assistant directors. They administer the grant-in-aid program, serve as counselors to our student athletes and are responsible for confirming the eligibility of all athletes before they are allowed to compete in a varsity, or junior varsity, sport. They also work with the National Summer Youth Sports Program which has been conducted the past seven years on the Ohio State campus. Delaney is also responsible for the Ice Rink Administration and the cheerleaders. Jones often serves on Big Ten committees.

John Fuller is our business manager, a job almost too complex for description. Briefly stated, however, he tabulates our expenses and incomes and brings them into focus so we can stay within our operating budget.

Ticket Director Bob Ries and his assistant, Roger Deerhake, are both the most popular and most unpopular men in Columbus during football season. They have the unenviable job of satisfying some 100,000 would-be purchasers with just over 83,000 tickets. That in itself is a year-round job, but with basketball, hockey and the rest of our sports there is much, much more to do.

Marv Homan is our sports information director. He and his assistant, Steve Snapp, write the brochures and press releases that circulate around the country with news of Ohio State athletes. On fall Saturdays like today they also do the football program and supervise activities in the press box.

Intramurals fall under the watchful and very capable eye of Fred Beekman. He is assisted by Ron Althoff, Dave Griner, Gene Harper and Bruce Maurer.

Phyllis Bailey heads our rapidly expanding women's program. Her assistants are Barbara Hinton, who in addition to her other duties works as the women's publicist, and Mary Daniels.

Those are just some of the staff members in the athletic department. There are many more, including assistants and secretary, who contribute to our program. They will be recognized at a later date along with our trainers, equipment men, the medical staff and the maintenance crew under the supervision of Mike Dolan. To all of them this program is dedicated.

Ed Weaver

Today is the 25th reunion for the 1949 Ohio State football team. Sprinkled among today's 87,000 onlookers are former members of coach Wes Fesler's great '49 team, which compiled a 7-1-2 record, won the Big Ten title and went on to a stirring 17-14 Rose Bowl victory over a strong University of California squad. That was Ohio State's first visit to Pasadena after the Big Ten and Pacific Eight signed the Rose Bowl pact in 1947, and on that January 1 in 1950 the Buckeyes proved beyond any doubt that they were worthy representatives.

Welcome back, members of the 1949 Ohio State team, and thanks for your special contribution to history.

OHIO STATE FOOTBALL COACH —

"WOODY HAYES"

W. W. "Woody" Hayes has been head football coach at The Ohio State University for 23 years. During this period Ohio State football has achieved a degree of excellence unmatched in the University's rich athletic history.

Hayes ranks second among all active major college coaches for most victories, 192. Only Paul "Bear" Bryant has won more. Woody is within eight of the coveted 200 victory total, a milestone reached by only a few college coaches, past or present.

Hayes was born February 14, 1913, at Clifton, Ohio, although he calls Newcomerstown his home. He is a 1935 graduate of Denison University, where he majored in English and history. He played tackle three years and was an outfielder in baseball. He has an M.A. degree from Ohio State in education administration.

His entire coaching career has been within the state of Ohio. He began in 1935 as an assistant at Mingo Junction. His first head coaching job came in 1938 at New Philadelphia High, where, in three seasons, his teams won 19, lost ten and tied one.

A five year stint in the Navy interrupted his coaching career but made a great impact upon his life.

After his discharge, Denison University, his alma mater, gave him his first opportunity to be a head coach in college. The year was 1946. Three years at Denison and two at Miami set the stage for his 1951 debut at Ohio State.

Hayes' record at Ohio State is a remarkable 159 wins, 49 losses and eight ties, a winning percentage of .764, excluding ties. His Buckeye teams have won nine Big Ten championships, six outright and three shared. His Big Ten record is 117-32-7. Since he has coached at Ohio State, the Buckeyes have led the nation in attendance per home game for 21 of the last 23 years.

Numerous honors have been won by Coach Hayes and by his Ohio State teams. He was named "College Coach of the Year" in 1957, and was runnerup for this honor on two other occasions. His teams have won three national championships; won a record 17 straight Big Ten victories two different times (1954-56 and 1967-69); and four Rose Bowl victories. He is past president of the National Football Coaches' Association.

Woody's around-the-clock devotion to football is without parallel. His work-week is seven days and more often than not his daily schedule extends past midnight. Such grueling demands would overwhelm a person 25 years his junior.

Woody has written three books about football, each with a different approach. He has made four trips to Vietnam to talk and visit with service men.

If he has a hobby outside of football it would be history. All periods interest him. Military history holds a special fascination.

He shrugs off mention of relinquishing his coaching duties by saying, "I'll do something else when I find a job I like better." The word "retirement" is not in his vocabulary.

The three qualities that best characterize Woody Hayes are honesty, hard-work and a love of teaching. The latter comes naturally as his father, Wayne Benton Hayes, served as superintendent of schools from 1920 until his death in 1939.

Woody Hayes is many things to many people. He is an era in himself. He is colorful, impatient, unpredictable, generous and unselfish, highly individualistic and deeply patriotic. His coaching career has enjoyed many more peaks than valleys. Success always has been within reach, but controversy is never far away.

As the billboard reads, "In all the world there is only one."

MAREK ON THE MOVE

Up until last year, Alan Ameche and Rufus Ferguson were the most famous running backs in Wisconsin football lore.

But sophomore halfback Billy Marek changed all that with a sensational 1973 season that earned him all-Big Ten honors and a place in the Wisconsin record book.

After a slow start, the 5-8, 183-pound Marek was next to unstoppable in the last half of the season. He finished the year with 1207 yards to become the first sophomore in Wisconsin history to join the exclusive 1000-yard club. And his season total was the second highest one season mark ever for the Badgers—exceeded only by Ferguson's 1222 in 1972.

Marek's top individual effort of the year came against Wyoming when he rambled for 226 yards to set a school one-game rushing mark. He also had 203 yards against Iowa and tallied four touchdowns against the dazed Hawkeyes. In all, the Chicago born Marek surpassed the 100-yard rushing mark six times in 1973.

Marek totaled 14 touchdowns and 84 points last year, both school marks. A lucky 13 of those tallies came as the result of rushing and that total tied a Wisconsin record.

Marek also figured in the Badger's passing attack, hauling in five receptions for 91 yards and was the top blocking back in the Wisconsin backfield.

"Billy is just a fine all-around football player and a great young man," praises Wisconsin coach John Jardine. "He is a credit to college football."

With more than a year left to play, Marek is almost assured of rewriting the Wisconsin career rushing and scoring records. With those kind of credentials, he deserves to take his place along side the other Badger greats.

CROWDS DON'T WORRY BARTOSZEK

Ohio State tight end Mike Bartoszek may not stand out in a crowd of modern day football players, but he does catch in one and that is the important thing as far as assistant coach Ralph Staub is concerned.

"At 6-4 and 218, Mike really isn't a very big tight end by today's standards," says Staub whose specialty is coaching the Buckeyes' offensive tackles and ends. "But he has such good timing and great hands that he can make the catch that a tight end has to make, the one with two or three defenders hanging all over him."

Staub rates Bartoszek, who played split end last year, but had just one catch, as one of the most sure-handed receivers he has ever coached.

"Mike has great hands and that is the most important asset a receiver can have," claims Staub. "Speed and moves are fine but they don't mean a thing if you can't hang onto the ball."

"We never worry about that with Mike. If he touches it, he usually catches it."

Bartoszek is the Buckeyes' leading receiver this year with eight catches for 107 yards and one touchdown — and he doesn't even start.

Big Doug France, a 6-6, 265-pound converted tackle, gets the starting nod because of his superior size and blocking ability. Bartoszek gets the call on long yardage plays and obvious passing downs.

"I'm not a very good blocker and I know it," admits the Erie, Pa., native "But I have worked hard this fall to get better and I think I am making progress."

"In the meantime, I'll just help the team by trying to catch passes."

He does it well, especially the out cut where he can work the sideline.

"That's my favorite pattern, because I can use my body to screen out the defender and then make the reception," he says.

"I also like the post pattern because there is a certain feeling of satisfaction when you beat a fast defensive halfback."

What route does he dislike the most?

"The quick look in," he responds unhesitatingly. "Some big linebacker is always waiting to chop you down and you're never sure where it is coming from. On those passes you just make sure you have the ball and try to gain as much yardage as possible."

University Engineers Hold Solar House Warming

Ohio's first solar home on the Ohio State Fairgrounds has solar panels on the roof to capture the sun's heat for heating and cooling. Ohio State University's department of mechanical engineering is monitoring the house's energy use with computers in a two-year study.

One of the most unique attractions at the Ohio State Fair this past summer was the first solar home in Ohio.

Heated and cooled by the sun's rays, the large four-bedroom house was designed at the University and built by Homewood Corp. of Columbus.

The house continues in use today at its fairground location 1½ miles east of the stadium where the university's department of mechanical engineering will monitor its energy consumption over the next two years. And Ohio Expositions Center General Manager Vic Lucas is scheduled to move in soon with his family.

Ohio State engineers say solar homes may become a popular way to cut down on heating and cooling bills as home energy costs soar in the near future.

Prof. Donald D. Glower, chairman of mechanical engineering at Ohio State, says the solar home at first will serve as a test project for solar-powered heating and cooling only. Later, says Glower, the house may be modified and re-equipped to convert solar energy to electrical energy, but this step is at least five years away.

Mounted on the roof of the 2,700-square foot house are 37 black glass-covered solar panels which face south — the key to capturing the sun's energy.

Water circulating through the panels is heated by the sun to as much as 20 degrees.

The hot water is piped next to a storage tank under the building, from there to a heat exchanger which furnishes hot tap water, and to an absorption refrigeration machine which provides heating and cooling.

The complete solar energy package built into the house consists of a 2,000-gallon low temperature water storage tank; a 2,000-gallon high temperature tank; an array of black glass-covered panels; the absorption refrigeration machine, and electric pumps and plumbing required to circulate the water through the various components.

Prof. Charles E. Sepsy, project engineer, explains that the house has conventional wiring and that some electrical power is used by the solar package pumps and the blowers which circulate the water through the various components.

When built into a new house, says Glower, the solar package might be expected to reduce consumption of conventional energy from 50 to 80 per cent for a house with central air heating and cooling.

The solar equipment can store the sun's heat for about five cloudy days, then the electric heat pump will furnish backup heating. Electricity supplied to the house also runs the pumps and circulators in the solar package.

The house has no windows, but instead has six "vision strips" extending from floor to ceiling, and three tropical courtyards with glass skylights which can be viewed from all but one room.

Beneath a cement floor poured over steel joists is a crawl space where the engineers' monitoring equipment is placed.

A computer will monitor the energy consumption, recording measurements every 15 minutes over the test period. Data will be collected by the computer on weather, temperatures of ground, attic, crawl spaces and slab, heat flow through walls, wind direction and speed, the intensity of indirect solar radiation and the number of times doors open and close. All this information will be evaluated, and results will give future developers the data needed to build the most feasible solar house.

The Ohio State solar home is one of 30 such houses across the country which are being tested, and it is the only one which uses off-the-shelf equipment.

The roof-mounted panels were furnished and installed by Pittsburgh Plate Glass; Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel furnished the steel framing; Westinghouse placed an electric kitchen in the house, and various local merchants added furnishings during the demonstration at the state fair.

1975. NOVA'S ALWAYS BEEN GOOD. NOW IT'S BEAUTIFUL.

Economy has taken a turn for the better.

The compact '75 Nova has been emphatically refined along the lines of elegant European sedans. Yet it's more than ever a strong reflection of the Chevrolet engineering tradition.

ANNOUNCING THE LN.

Nova's newfound beauty is ably represented by a whole new kind of Nova, one that just might be precisely right for the times.

You're looking at the 1975 Nova LN—the most luxurious compact in Chevrolet history. The wide-back reclining front seats look and feel like big, soft lounge chairs. The front seat backs adjust to give you the right slant on comfort. And the matching

'75 Nova LN.

To sit in one is to settle on one.

materials and fabrics throughout the car are a classic example of beauty in color coordination. There's also an electric clock and much more that says Nova LN.

ANNOUNCING ALL THE OTHER '75 NOVAS.

The basic '75 Nova, Nova Custom and Nova SS have many things in common with the LN. Styling, comfort, sensible size and sensible prices, to name a few. Thick carpeting, front disc brakes and GM-Specification steel-belted radial ply tires, to name a few more.

Obviously, the beautiful new '75 Nova—with its new front suspension system, trusty six-cylinder engine and new double-panel roof construction—is still a supremely practical Nova.

NOVA'S LOOKING BETTER ALL THE TIME.

We think beauty and practicality go together exceedingly well. And you're cordially invited to make the same conclusion—at your nearest Chevrolet dealer's.

Bohlig and Zakula Trying to Fill Some Big Shoes

When Wisconsin co-captains Gregg Bohlig and Mark Zakula stride to mid-field for the referee's coin toss prior to today's Ohio State game, they'll be walking in some pretty famous footsteps.

Eight of Wisconsin's All-American grid selections, for example, have served as captain. Although Bohlig and Zakula may not envision All-American status, they nevertheless are excited about the vote of confidence expressed by their teammates.

"I was really thrilled to find I was chosen," Bohlig stated. "I really didn't expect it."

Zakula echoed a similar sentiment. "The rest of the guys on the team think captains are the football players they should be like — and that's an honor."

The duties of a captain are not expressly spelled out but according to Webster, he must be a leader and a dominant figure. When applied to the sport of football, those prerequisites cover a broad horizon of demands.

"Coach Jardine feels a captain is his link of communication with the team," Bohlig explained. "It's hard for him to get a complete feel of the team."

Captains also are expected to be the rah-rah individuals. "It's our duty to encourage enthusiasm and to try and keep the team fired up," Bohlig added.

"It's not the captain's job to do everything," Zakula interjected. "The players have to fire themselves up too. I feel if anybody has something to say they should speak up."

"Obviously with as many men as are on the team there will be a few problems but we try to work them out if we can," Bohlig noted. "There really hasn't been anything that has come up yet," Zakula added, "but if someone is upset or thinking of quitting you have to talk to them and tell them to stick it out."

Bohlig and Zakula call the respective offensive and defensive signals and also must make key decisions concerning penalties. Is this an extra burden? "Not really," Bohlig answered. "If they (the coaches) think we need help in a particular situation they'll let us know."

Zakula dictated defensive alignments last season but feels he will have more authority this year because he is a captain. "It's good to be captain and calling the signals because you are the only one who talks in the huddle and you can say what you want."

The Badger co-captains agree that Wisconsin is a quality football team this year. "I think it really looks great," Bohlig exclaimed. "We've got the experience and that's important. We have been picked to finish third in some polls and we don't have to feel like we're kidding ourselves."

"Last year we thought we could do well but after losing four games by a total of 10 points some of the seniors gave up," Zakula said. "This year everybody that is playing has played before. We have depth, if someone gets hurt we have someone who can step right in."

Ohio State and Michigan, of course, again are rated as the teams to beat in the Big Ten. But in contrast to previous seasons, they are not in awe of the perennial powers.

"I don't think they scare anybody," Zakula said matter-of-factly. Bohlig concurred: "I really think we can beat Ohio State and Michigan."

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY BLOCK 'O' IN BEAUTIFUL LUCITE

The above piece is the Block 'O' in scarlet with base.

The pieces are on display at Widing's China, 4510 Kenny Rd., Columbus, in the Country Inn Plaza. Take a look after the game or mail directly for one. They are a good piece that you will always enjoy.

PRODUCTION IS LIMITED SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

The Block 'O' with Buckeyes and leaves is expertly hand cut into a clear 3" x 4" x 1" acrylic block of the quality you would display at home or office. Each piece is signed and dated by the artist. What a great way to remember the 1974 National Champions. Perfect for that difficult gift you are always looking for Upright as a distinct display piece or down flat as a practical paperweight.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY

Building an organization is much like building a football team. You secure key personnel and use good coaching and concentrate on the fundamentals of the game, progress will appear and championship form can be attained.

Here in our agencies, we have key personnel who have done a great job of recruiting quality men and women. Pictured on this page are some of the key personnel who do an excellent job of coaching and guiding our agents into becoming successful, established career life underwriters. This is a career lifetime opportunity. Qualified individuals may be promoted to management. If you are a person who has a competitive background, has been serious about success and truly desires a career — not a job — why not call Mike Murray, C.L.U. or Jerry Porter, the coaches of The Equitable Agencies in Columbus, Ohio.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO OHIO STATER INN

Convenience is a paramount feature of THE INN . . . you can walk to every important office, service administrative headquarters, the Stadium and St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus. It is easily accessible to all highways and expressways leading into Columbus from all directions . . . North, South, East or West.

The OHIO STATER INN is conveniently close to nearby industrial and commercial establishments . . . close to University Hospital and other hospitals . . . close to Columbus Airport (five miles due East) . . . close to Battelle Memorial Institute.

For Reservations, write OHIO STATER INN, 2060 North High Street at East Woodruff, Columbus, Ohio 43201 or Telephone 614-294-5381

JIM COPE, senior end from McKeesport, Pennsylvania. Starting his third year as a regular on the closed side after taking over the spot as a sophomore when starter Tom Marendt injured a knee. One of the most underrated players on the team. Made 65 tackles last year and had a team high-eight sacks for a minus 54 yards. Also credited with breaking up two passes and a fumble recovery. Strong and difficult to block, two vitals for the closed side. Earned all-state honors at South Allegheny High where he played offensive end and once scored on an end around play that went for 85 yards and a touchdown. Captained his high school football team.

VAN NESS DECREE, senior end from Warren. Starting his third year as a regular for the Buckeyes on the open side. Named to the All-Big Ten team last year and a first team selection on the United Press International All-America team. Made 63 tackles last season, including four behind the line of scrimmage. His 263 minutes of playing time in 1973 was second best on the defense and he played only sparingly against Iowa. Very quick and exceptionally good at reading the option play. Not particularly big but hits with authority. Was a high school All-American at Western Reserve where he captained the football team.

ARNIE JONES, senior tackle from Dayton. Played so well his sophomore year as a reserve linebacker that OSU coaches shifted him to tackle last year to get him into the lineup. Responded to the shift with 90 tackles, fourth best on the team. Started out this year back at linebacker but then was moved back to tackle in the Minnesota game when the Gophers were moving the ball on the ground. His top two games at Ohio State have both come against Michigan. Not big as tackles go, but very strong and aggressive. Attributes his great leg strength to many hours of childhood skiing in Europe where his father was stationed with the Air Force.

PETE CUSICK, senior tackle from Lakewood who broke into the lineup as a sophomore and has been a regular ever since. Made 89 tackles last season and was named to the all-Big Ten first team and the United Press second All-America team. A sure bet for All-America honors this year. A solid 250-pounder with overpowering strength. Played six positions on his Lakewood high school team. Hobby is weight lifting which he began in junior high school when he was too small to make the wrestling team.

MEET THE BUCKEYES'

DEFENSIVE LINE

PAT CURTO, junior end from Groveport. A valuable reserve end who has been slowed in the early going this year with a minor knee injury. Gives the Buckeyes an excellent back-up man behind Jim Cope on the closed side, but can also play the open side of the field if necessary. Saw action in all eleven games last year and had a good fall practice session this year. Played fullback and defensive end in high school and was an outstanding prep wrestler. Won a total of nine high school letters and was captain of the football, wrestling and track teams. Majoring in English and wants to teach and coach after graduation.

OHIO STATE SONGS

ACROSS THE FIELD

Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here,
Set the earth reverberating with a mighty cheer
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball,
Hail! Hail! the gang's all here,
So let's win that old conference now.

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

In old Ohio there's a team,
That's known thru-out the land;
Eleven warriors, brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again

The Buckeye Battle Cry —
Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the scarlet and gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio!
Smash thru to victory
We cheer you as we go:
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end for O Hi o.

The All-American Receiver.

Over the years, Zenith color TV has earned a reputation for dependability and picture excellence no other color TV can match*.

And today's Zenith solid-state Chromacolor II backs up that reputation with a combination of features no other color TV can offer.

The famous Chromacolor picture tube that set a new standard of excellence in color TV. A patented Power Sentry voltage regulator that protects components. And a rugged, 100% solid-state modular chassis for long-life dependability.

It's the best way we know to make sure, at Zenith, the quality goes in before the name goes on.®

SOLID STATE
CHROMACOLOR II

*For the third straight year, a nationwide survey of independent TV service technicians has named Zenith, by more than 2 to 1 over the next best brand, as the color TV needing fewest repairs. The same survey rated Zenith as the highest-quality color TV, as the one with the best picture, and as the one service technicians would buy for themselves today. Survey details on request.
